Description

A walnut, round Coaching Table with a brass plaque noting 'Made At The Warwickshire Reformatory, Weston, Leamington'.

The table is a good size for a lamp or occasional table, folding easily once it's locking bar is released. It's very well made which is perhaps surprising given its likely to have been constructed by boys aged between 8 and 14.

The top is made of a good cut of walnut and although obviously made either side of 1900, the table is good quality. Circa 1900.
