A leather Briefcase or Attache stamped 'Equestrian, Real Hide, Made in England' above the brass lock.

The case has a divider to the interior with 2 gussets and a separate, zipped compartment for easy access to the outside. The case has 2 fixing straps and the lock can be set to 3 different positions dependent on how full the case is. Although the name Equestrian has been used by a number of current companies, no reference has been found for a maker from the case's date.

A well made case in good condition. Early to mid 20th century.
